

© Laurie Bonnaud/MSF

Médecins Sans Frontières is looking for

MENTAL HEALTH EXPERTS (CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGISTS)

Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) is one of the world's leading independent international medical relief organizations, working in more than 70 countries worldwide to assist people whose survival is threatened by violence, neglect or catastrophe.

From providing psychological first aid to survivors of natural disasters to counselling HIV patients, our MHOs play a vital role in our projects. Trauma is often the most painful aspect of surviving a conflict or disaster, or living with a disease, and mental healthcare is vital for recovery.

It's a challenging and exciting role and you would be responsible for some or all of the following:

- Carry out a community mental health assessment
- Planning a mental health strategy
- Managing mental healthcare for an entire hospital/project
- Providing care for victims of sexual violence
- Supporting groups of displaced people
- Identifying and managing protection issues

Requirements:

- Completed education in clinical psychology
- Minimum of two years of practical (clinical) experience with trauma / PTSD patients, victims of violence, HIV/Aids counselling
- Experience in training and managing health workers
- Creativity and initiative to work with non-professionals in a different cultural setting
- Fluency in English and/or French, Arabic skills are an asset
- Flexibility and ability to work under pressure

We offer:

- Fixed-term contract for the length of the assignment
- International health insurance
- Transport to/from and accommodation in the mission country
- Necessary vaccinations, visas costs and preparation course are covered
- An unforgettable experience in an international team and professionally challenging environment

Further information:

<https://www.aerzte-ohne-grenzen.at/en/psychologists-and-psychotherapists>
<https://www.aerzte-ohne-grenzen.at/en/infosessions>